

Professor of Medicine

Chief, Division of Nephrology

Harvard Medical School/

Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center

The Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, a major teaching hospital of Harvard Medical School, seeks applications and nominations for the position of Professor of Medicine to serve as Chief of the Division of Nephrology in its Department of Medicine. In this capacity, the incumbent must provide strong leadership for all of the clinical, educational and scientific activities of the Division. The successful applicant will be a top-flight academic physician-scientist with proven excellence as a teacher and outstanding clinical skills. The division chief serves as director of the ACGME-approved fellowship program, and as principal investigator on the Nephrology Training Grant. The Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, a 665-bed tertiary and quaternary care hospital, is a founding member of CareGroup<sup>SM</sup>, an organized system of quality healthcare serving individuals, families and communities in New England.

Letters of application or nomination should be sent to:

Mark L. Zeidel, M.D.

Chair, Department of Medicine

Chair, Nephrology Search Committee

Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center

330 Brookline Avenue, YA-419

Boston, Massachusetts 02215

mamurphy@bidmc.harvard.edu

Harvard Medical School and Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center are Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employers. Women and minorities are particularly encouraged to apply.

HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL

Beth Israel Deaconess
Medical Center