

Instructor or Assistant Professor
Harvard Medical School
Department of Ophthalmology
Clinical Scientist Development Program (K12)
(Supported by the NIH/NEI)

The Harvard-Vision Clinical Scientist Development Program seeks a subspecialty/fellowship-trained board-certified/eligible ophthalmologist (or optometrists) to commit, at level of Junior Faculty – Instructor or Assistant Professor, 75-80% of time to structured research and development program under mentorship of one of our senior faculty.

Up to two competitive positions available throughout Harvard Ophthalmology system for July 1

Application deadline is December 31 for the following July 1.

1. Complete curriculum vitae
2. 1-2 page Letter of Intent describing how this mechanism will further your career in vision science
3. 1-2 page Scientific Proposal
4. 3 letters of recommendation

Interested applicants should send the above materials to:

Reza Dana, MD, MPH c/o Cori O'Brien
Program Director
Massachusetts Eye & Ear Infirmary
243 Charles Street
Boston, MA 02114.

For more information about the program visit www.meei.harvard.edu/edu/visionsci.php
Or contact Cori O'Brien at Cori_O'Brien@meei.harvard.edu or 617-573-3311

US citizenship or resident alien status (green card) is required for acceptance to the program.

This program is funded by the National Institutes of Health. Harvard University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Women & Minorities are particularly encouraged to apply.